

Faculty Position
Department of Pharmacology
The University of Michigan

The University of Michigan Department of Pharmacology is seeking an outstanding scientist for a tenure-track ASSISTANT PROFESSOR position. Applicants must have exceptional potential to develop a vibrant research program in Adolescent Substance Use and Abuse. Qualifications include a PhD in Pharmacology or a related discipline and/or MD degree, 3-5 years of postdoctoral experience, and research accomplishments as evidenced by scholarly contributions to the literature.

The successful candidate will join a dynamic, diverse, and collaborative department in a Top 10 Medical School in a university setting with superb opportunities for career development. In addition, the candidate will become a member of the UM Substance Abuse Research Center (UMSARC) and be part of an interdisciplinary team investigating adolescent substance use and abuse from basic science, epidemiological, prevention and treatment perspectives. Details of the department and UMSARC can be found on the relevant web pages (<http://www.pharmacology.med.umich.edu/Pharmacology/Home.html> and <http://sitemaker.umich.edu/umsarc/home>).

The successful applicant will be expected to establish a highly visible externally funded research program and to excel in teaching medical students and other health professionals, as well as graduate and postdoctoral students. An attractive package including excellent laboratory facilities and generous startup funds will be available.

The quality of life in Ann Arbor is outstanding. The combination of a large, major research university and a small, safe, family-oriented community make Ann Arbor an ideal environment to develop an academic and research career. Ann Arbor also offers an outstanding combination of sports, recreation, and cultural events.

Please send your CV, a two- to four-page summary of your research and future plans, and details of your teaching experience. Also include names of three people who would be willing to provide a letter of recommendation.

Application materials should be sent electronically as a single PDF if possible to: sboggio@umich.edu. If sending by mail, address all correspondence to: Dr. JR Traynor, Pharmacology Search Committee, UM Substance Abuse Research Center, 1111 E. Catherine St. Ann Arbor, MI 48109.
